

A concrete lecture advice for more concrete outcome

Concrete: (its) history
Concrete: (its) recipe
Concrete: (its) results: structures and artworks
Concrete: (its) enemies
Concrete: (its) diseases
Concrete: (its) solutions
Concrete: (its) normation

As a resource I take my personal artistic endeavour:
on framing, claiming, appropriating setting out anchor points within and for a discourse registering them into my thematic.

I will build this 20 minutes onto my experience in Europe:
Since my residence in Istanbul (2005) some of my work focussed on concrete and water, this view became more clear during my residence at Cittadellarte where I was introduced to Nurope trough the Llubliana oasis.

I literally set out anchor points throughout Europe and would love to continue this action, the Nurope method could be a helpful tool in this.

The lecture will include photographic and other visual material (e.g. informal urban furniture), written documents, as well as sound.
